

I beleive I should have the right to record shows from my TV. I pay for cable which in turns pay for the right to broadcast them. How can the Media industry try to have the FCC pass laws that could allow them to double dip. How, you ask, well think if they can get this passed then DVD sells of the seasons will increase. Before you pass this I ask the FCC to do a study on the current DVD sales and how much recording is hurting them. In the small world I live almost no one records but more then 12 people have over 100 DVDs with my self owning 200. I saw the comment that Viacom will stop broadcasting HDTV if this is not passed. Let the stop other will continue and they will lose. This seems like a threat and should not be taken lightly.

Thanks For your time

Michael
